The fight over New York's representation in the Cabinet is waxing so warm here that not a few Republican politicians are willing to predict that the Empire State will have either two members of the Cabinet or none at all. Mr. Cleveland has kept two New Yorkers in his Cabinet Mr. Fairchild and Mr. Whitney—but it is hardly to be presumed that with the Vice-President elect from New York, General Harrison would give two Cabinet places to residents of that State.

Ex-Senator Platt, backed by Vice-President-elect Morton and influential members of the Republican party in New York City, asks to be made Secretary of the Treasury. He requires General Harrison to turn down ex-Senator Warner Miller, who, as the Republican candidate for Governor New York in the last election, sacrificed his personal wishes for the benefit of the Republican Electoral ticket. If Harrison appoints Platt to a Cabinet office he will be unced by Miller's great personal following in the country districts in New York. If he selects Miller in preference to Platt, the latter's following in New York City will be up in arms against the Adminministration. Senator Plumb, of Kansas, said to-day that he heard in New York yesterday that a strong opposition to Platt, headed by Cornelius Bliss, was organizing in the Union six months. I will not fight for less than $10,000, but I will fight for that amount or more."

KILRAIN DOESN'T OBJECT.

Sullivan with bare knuckles to a finish, sullivan with sullivan with bare knuckles to a finish, sullivan with sulliva Sullivan with bare knuckles to a finish, under prize ring rules, for $5,000 a side, within ten weeks. "Richard K. Fox, Kilrain's backer," said Davies, "stands ready at any time to make the necessary deposit, and Kilrain is equally anxious to hear that Sullivan will agree.' The programme for the week in the Senate will depend upon the result of the meeting of the Committee on Finance, called for Tuesday morning. If it is then decided to take up the committee's revenue measure and the Senate's substitute for the meeting of the Chicago Exposition Building, and says in explanation why Mitchell resulting the first of the Chicago Exposition Building, and says in explanation why Mitchell resulting the first of the Chicago Exposition Building. New York, December 2d.—The World says: Davies is trying to arrange a match between Mitchell and Dempsey, to take place in the Chicago Exposition Building, and says in explanation why Mitchell renatistary bill, pending at the close of the ast session, its consideration will preclude Club, that if the California battle resulted last session, its consideration will preclude the possibility of another bill coming to the front until it is disposed of. It is the expressed desire of Senators Morrill, Allison and Sherman to push the measure to a vote, so it seems probable the bill will be taken up. M'CAFFREY AND KILLEN If, by any possibility, the revenue bill should not come up, the probabilities, of course, of legislation are rather vague. The bills most likely to receive prompt attention, with the least opposition, are those for the admission of North Dakota, Montana, and Washington Territories into the Union.

CHICAGO, December 21.—The verdict of the jury in the dynamite case, at a late hour last night, sentencing Hronek to twelve years in the State Prison, seems to fully establish the constitutionality of the Act of July, 1887, providing a penalty from any improper use of dynamite in experimenting with or teaching others how it could be used.

The defense in this case sought to prove that the dynamite came into Hronek's hands before the passage of the Act. The general impression prevails that the de-cision of the jury in this case will have a restraint on dynamite plotters and that the backbone of anarchy in this

On Saturday the RECORD-UNION comreponds to all of the many assaults by distinguished Southern essayists upon the proposition that the colored citizens in the preservation of equal rights between the States. It is a question in which conscience says "must," but fear says "I law does not belong to the realm of private society, which is outside the circle of his civil rights. That the question is age caliber of the whole negro race in America equal that of the white, before civil and political standing decreed to all citizens? Does the negro enjoy the imfinal question to the South: "Do you, in your definition of civil rights, include all and only the rights that go with one's simple membership in the community, and do not depend on his personal identity; and do you favor giving all citizens common enjoyment of equal rights?"

It will be seen that the hinge upon which Mr. Cable's whole argument turns is that the RECORD-UNION has already pointed out as the pivot of the question, that the social conditions do not enter into it, and when dragged in are out of place so glaringly as to expose the fallacy of the arguments advanced by Mr. Colquitt and Mr. Eustis and Mr. Grady that social integrity of the white race demands the political subjection of the colored voter. As Mr. Cable wisely puts it, their views belong to the hysterics of the question.

CANADIAN ANNEXATION.

That annexation of Canada to the United States should be, as it is, openly, loudly discussed in that country, is flattering to our vanity. It is a great sacrifice for any considerable portion of a people to make, to even debate the question of yielding up the independence of their State and submitting to absorption by another nation. It is impossible to conceive of the people of the United States, for instance, they know, their records remain as exever calmly discussing a proposition to

This is the Tory policy, and more likely to prevail, as it seems to us, than annexation to the United States. Of the three possibilities in the case—annexation, the possibilities in the case—annexation, independence or closer Union with the on Saturday the Record-Union commented extendedly upon Mr. Grady's speech at Atlanta, holding that gentleman to be mistaken in his fears of a race conflict, and that the Southern people who concur with him, confuse civil rights and social freedom. Now comes George W. Cable—himself a Southern citizen—in the Forum—thing we may be assured, the present feedom. December, and in a trenchant essay the fixed points of the United States. Of the United States and immigrant agencies, are this season receiving the benefit of persistent efforts in three possibilities in the case—annexation, independence or closer Union with the Home Government—independence would appear to have the first place and annexation to the United States. Of the Union Pacific, seeing that it is to its advantage to assist in this development, is doing more toward encouraging travel to the upper part of the State than it has ever done before. This neutral ground, says Captain Leary, of the sloop-of-war Adams, will, by both English and American gunboats, be defended against any acts of war within its bounds by either party. It is significant that in this declaration the Germans are not mentioned. It is inferable that they desire the success of Tamesese as has been heretofore recited is their wish, and that they are careless as to the means taken to accomplish it.

> THE death of Hall McAllister of San Francisco removes one of the ablest of the members of the bar and a pioneer Californian, who lived to see the State rise from its swaddling clothes to giant strength and the greatness of one of the fairest and most progressive of the units of the Republic. Mr. McAllister came of a line of distinguished lawyers who held important positions under the law department of the Government. By his untiring industry and his great abilities he fully maintained the high legal reputation of his line. He added to the dignity, refinement and learning of his profession by his every-day practice. Such men build better than amples to point the way and light the path destroy their distinct political integrity in favor of amalgamation with another political system. But the annexation question in Canada has certainly reached the stage in Canada has certainly reached the stage of the law.

The Cabinet makers and office fillers have learned a lesson already from President-elect Harrison. They are unable to draw from him any expression of comfort whatever. He is certainly a man who knows how to keep his own counsel and is fully alive to the virtue of silence. This fact must have been deeply impressed upon the demand is made, without more than a protest in resistance, or else to admit her to full partnership. But whatever a portion of the Canadians may think of the idea of annexation, we on this side the line ought to be passive until we are asked to act. Shall we be blind enough to refuse to protect ourselves from the sure issues of ignorance in them, when they come asking the helpful influence of our common school system? Shall we refuse our opportunity already large crop of adult Chinese criminals?

This the more, since there are in the city conspicuous instances of the value of our American education to Chinese, its power to lift them away from their traditions and associations, and to make them useful factors of society.

The case ought not to need this arguing. Strip the question of prejudice and sentiment—and it does not become the guardians of our best heritage, our public schools, to indulge either of these—strip it of these, and it becomes a question of expediency merely. The law gives Chinese children, as well as others, the right to the schools, and prudence dictates their encouragement to avail themselves of the contract of the sentiment of the schools, and prudence dictates their encouragement to avail themselves of the city to the people of Europe as a great and mighty commonwealth. They agreed the sow and forever to lay aside all sectional feeling and work in harmony with us for this purpose, and it appears to me that the people of the northern part of the State of California to the people of Europe as a great and mighty commonwealth. They agreed the sow and forever to lay aside all sectional feeling and work in harmony with us for this purpose, and it appears to me that the people of the northern part of the State of California to the people of the northern part of the State of California to the people of the northern part of the State of California to the people of the northern part of the State of California to the people of the northern part of the State of California to the people of the northern part of the State of California to the people right to the schools, and prudence dictates their encouragement to avail themselves of them. It should be a question of how best to provide them their rightful school privileges. No one would desire that this should be done by comminging them freely with the children of our homes in our already established classes. This would be parents would like to have to submit to this mixing of our children with Chinese boys, with their race's habits and the filth of Chinatown upon them, even in the schools? It ought to be an occasion of gratitude with us that the law provides specifically for the alternative of a separate school, and that this compared to the school of the separate school, and that this separate school being provided, their right to entry to the other schools ceases, a right that exists before the estab-lishment of this separate school. Our School Directors ought to be glad that this request for school accommodations for the Chinese children of the city is coming to ceases, a right that exists before the estabthem in the form of a respectful petition for a separate Chinese school, instead of as a mandamus to compel their entry into the schools already established.

It is to be hoped that this matter will be treated across the schools are a separate to the schools. treated seriously and wisely by our Board of Education, as it ought to be and doubtless will be, and that this most reasonable only the duty of the Board of Education to provide the school. There is a moral side to the question equally pressing; a side that deserves to be considered—without bias of prejudice, and without demagogism. It is the genius of our system to provide education to our youth as an antidote for the evils springing abundant from ignorance, and to fit the individual for greafer service-ableness to the State. There can be no exceptions thought of in the case of these Chinese children. They are here and in all liklihood to stay, especially in view of the Restriction Act, and to become a part of our body politic. Most of them are, indeed, native born, and by that fact doubtless are citizens. we shall have no more of it from either

"I was at most of the principal places in Britain, without India to support it. The the request of Chinese residents of the city and others, for separate school accommodations for Chinese pupils, now pending before the Board of Education of this city, permit a few words. The spirit to ignore this request, that seems to obtain, is to me unaccountable from these facts: The legal right of Chinese children to school print this request, that seems to obtain, is to me unaccountable from these facts: The legal right of Chinese children to school privileges is unquestioned under our law; and their further right to these accommodations in a separate school, whenever a sufficient number of children are found desiring these accommodations.

The case on both these points is clearly made out in this instance. There remains only the duty of the Board of Education to provide the school. There is a moral side refusing to pay the growers a profitable price while their fruit is in good, prime condition. The result is disastrous to the canner and ruinous to the grower. Let this thing be reversed. Let us go to Europe, show them our products in their best condition, and we will find no necessity of sending out poets to gather in the people. Let us find a profitable market for our goods and we will find that if we built a goods and we will find that if we built a wall forty feet high around this great State immigrants of a desirable class would come here and would manage to find their way over the wall, even if we had no ladders there."

The work of laying the new asphaltum walk at the Southern Pacific passenger depot is almost completed. The work is being done by the Santa Cruz Asphaltum Company, and is a very creditable job. "Are there any other benefits that are

"Can you point out any of these?"
"Yes. Chief among them would be the creation of a new factor for trade development in the organization of local Boards of Trade, Improvement Associations, Chambers of Commerce and other societies throughout every section of the State. These organizations would educate their members in the laws of commerce, and men who now take little or no interest in such matters would brighten up and soon become keen, active business men. The commercial spirit would take hold of every little community and the minds of men would be enlarged by the discussions that would arise. The Boards in the district would arise. The Boards in the district would communicate with the Boards in the county and the counties would have their communication with the State Board, and thus would be developed a centralized power for evolving thoughts and ideas for the advancement of industrial and commercial interests. WORTH THE CLOSE READ-ING OF CLOAK AND JACKET BUYERS.

The most striking feature of the Winter fashions in Wraps is their infinite diversity. Within certain limits-and they are broad oneseverything is worn.

If proof of this is needed an examination of the hundreds of styles we display in Wraps, Jackets and Jerseys will dispel all doubt.

But thereby hangs a tale,

Few merchants on the coast aim at the diversity of styles that we do. Indeed, they haven't the trade to warrant it. Moreover, they find larger profits in fewer styles, and those, too, of the most staple sorts.

We appreciate the fact, however, that a lady who buys a wrap takes additional pleasure in it if she finds that it is an exclusive style, and that her neighbor is not likely to have something exactly like it. Hence our stock, except in certain lines, contains few duplicates. We have taken pains this season to buy in such remote markets as Boston, New York, Philadelphia and St. Louis, in order that our styles may be

Tennyson, in his exquisite poem, dreams of a long procession of lovely women of ages past. This is all very well, but the laureate would have done the world a greater service if he had only told the women of the present how they could improve their health and enhance their charms. This he might easily have done by recommending the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Health is the best friend of beauty, and the innumerable ills worst enemies. Long experience has proven that the health of womankind and the "Favorite Prescription" walk hand in hand, and are inseparable. It is the only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee from the manning. under a positive guarantee from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. This guarantee has been printed on the bottle-wrapper, and faithfully carried out

MISCELLANEOUS. TO THE PUBLIC

THE BAKERS OF THIS CITY HAVE ALL agreed to make two loaves instead of three out of ten cents' worth of dough-to be sold to private trade at five cents a loaf and twenty tickets for $1; wholesale trade, four cents. We are glad they are about to make this change, for they have cut the bread so smalls and tried to make it look so big, that the good bread, and left it tasteless and dry. (Signed.) ROHR & LOCH, Pioneer Bakery.
